

NJIT TECHNOLOGY AND SOCIETY FORUM 2013-2014

FROM SUPERSTORMS TO THE STARS

A new academic year once again brings insightful commentary and the celebration of artistic creativity to campus in another series of Technology and Society Forum presentations.

The first two Forum sessions look at threats to our infrastructure and society, and explore positive strategies for change.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2

HURRICANE SANDY: IMPACT, RECOVERY AND PREPAREDNESS

A panel discussion led by Michel Boufadel,
NJIT Professor of Civil and Environmental Engineering
3:00 – 4:30 PM, Campus Center Ballroom

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 23

GLOBAL ASSAULT: THE SCRAMBLE FOR THE WORLD'S LAST RESOURCES

Michael Klare
Five College Professor of Peace and World Security Studies
3:00 – 4:30 PM, Campus Center Ballroom

This year, the NJIT Technology and Society Forum will also present its annual Gilbreth Colloquium in celebration of Women's History Month and discussion of astrophysical research that looks far outward into the universe. And in keeping with what has become a creative Forum tradition, concerts are on the schedule as well.
